Applicants to CSPP graduate programs may be eligible to receive credit for previous graduate work, at the discretion of the program to which they are admitted. These credits must have been completed with a grade of B or better from an accredited institution within the past seven years. A maximum of 30 units of graduate coursework and no more than 25% of a doctoral program’s total unit requirement may be accepted. Although credit for previous graduate work may reduce the total number of units for which a student needs to enroll in the program, it rarely reduces the time to completion due to practicum requirements and other course sequences. Program specific information about transfer credit eligibility may be obtained from the program and can be found in the catalog. Specifically, information for the San Francisco Clinical Psychology PsyD program can be found at this link to the catalog.

Program Costs

This program requires 90 academic units and 30 internship units for a total of 120 units. The per unit tuition for an academic unit for 2023-2024 is $1,298.

The total AY 2023-2024 full-time internship fee is $7,950. Students will incur application fee expenses when applying for internships. Students should anticipate costs for travel to multiple internship interviews most of which will be out-of-the campus area and some out-of-state.

The program requires students to complete 15 hours of personal psychotherapy. Typically, students spend $750 - $1,500 to meet this requirement. The program also requires students to attend one professional conference during the program. The cost is typically $100-$150 plus travel costs; volunteer opportunities are often available to reduce the conference fee. CSPP allows students to request transfers to other programs within CSPP or Alliant to accommodate personal circumstances and/or changing educational/professional goals. Transfers between programs must be approved and students must be in good academic standing.

Licensure

The licensure data are based on the known licensure status of alumni and were gathered from alumni and licensing boards across the United States; therefore, the data are incomplete.

Licensure

Outcome	2013-2023
The total number of program graduates (doctoral degrees conferred on transcript) between 2 and 10 years ago	359
The number of these graduates (between 2 and 10 years ago) who became licensed psychologists in the past 10 years	262
Licensure percentage	73%

Graduates of the clinical psychology program hold a variety of professional career positions across the country and in a few countries outside the U.S. as well. Some of these positions do not require licensure as a psychologist, particularly those in academic settings, government, and research. Therefore, some graduates do not seek licensure as a psychologist during their professional careers. It typically takes graduates two years post graduation to complete the requirements to become a licensed psychologist.
