Applicants to CSPP graduate programs may be eligible to receive credit for previous graduate work, at the discretion of the program to which they are admitted. These credits must have been completed with a grade of B or better from an accredited institution within the past seven years. A maximum of 30 units of graduate coursework and no more than 25% of a doctoral program’s total unit requirement may be accepted. Although credit for previous graduate work may reduce the total number of units for which a student needs to enroll in the program, it rarely reduces the time to completion due to practicum requirements and other course sequences. Program specific information about transfer credit eligibility may be obtained from the program and can be found in the catalog. Specifically, information for the Sacramento Clinical Psychology PsyD program can be found at this link to the catalog.

CSPP allows students to request transfers to other programs within CSPP or Alliant to accommodate personal circumstances and/or changing educational/professional goals. Transfers between programs must be approved and students must be in good academic standing.

Licensure

The licensure data are based on the known licensure status of alumni and were gathered from alumni and licensing boards across the United States; therefore, the data are incomplete.

Licensure

Outcome	2013-2023
The total number of program graduates (doctoral degrees conferred on transcript) between 2 and 10 years ago	99
The number of these graduates (between 2 and 10 years ago) who became licensed psychologists in the past 10 years	77
Licensure percentage	78%

Graduates of the clinical psychology program hold a variety of professional career positions across the country and in a few countries outside the U.S. as well. Some of these positions do not require licensure as a psychologist, particularly those in academic settings, government, and research. Therefore, some graduates do not seek licensure as a psychologist during their professional careers. It typically takes graduates two years post graduation to complete the requirements to become a licensed psychologist.
